Lenten Communion:

The Worship Commission has invited us to celebrate communion each week during Lent as a community discipline. Each week we will offer a variation in how it is served as a means of exploring different facets of our celebration.

Today, we will be using Hawaiian sweetbread as a reminder that this meal is not only a commemoration of the Last Supper it is also a foretaste of the heavenly banquet that awaits us. Our focus is on the words of Jesus when he says, “I tell you, I won’t drink wine again until that day when I drink it in a new way with you in my Father’s kingdom” (Mt. 26:29).
